Read each question. Circle the best answer.

1. Fill in the blank: The dog ___ tail is wagging belongs to Mia.

   A. who B. whose C. that D. which

   Whose shows ownership. The tail belongs to the dog, so whose is just right.

2. Which relative pronoun fits? The scientist ___ we met studies whales.

   A. whom B. where C. whose D. which

   We met the scientist, so the scientist receives the action. Whom is used for people in that spot.

3. Which word is a relative pronoun? The girl who won the race smiled.

   A. smiled B. who C. race D. girl

   Who starts a clause that tells us more about the girl. That is the job of a relative pronoun.

4. Which relative pronoun shows ownership?

   A. who B. that C. which D. whose

   Whose tells who something belongs to, like the boy whose hat blew away.

5. Fill in the blank: The book ___ I borrowed is on the shelf.

   A. where B. who C. whose D. that

   That works for things, and it starts a clause telling which book. Nice choice!

6. Which word is a relative pronoun?

   A. quickly B. which C. under D. because

   Which can start a clause that describes a thing, so it is a relative pronoun. Great spotting!

7. Fill in the blank: My uncle, ___ lives in Halifax, is a baker.

   A. which B. whom C. who D. whose

   Who is used for people when the person does the action. Your uncle lives in Halifax, so who fits.

8. Which sentence uses a relative pronoun correctly?

   A. The bike that I ride is red.

   B. The bike whose I ride is red.

   C. The bike whom I ride is red.

   D. The bike who I ride is red.

   A bike is a thing, so that is correct. Who and whom are for people.
